The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was

4,252 copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

If there are any colder ones we pass.

And the island of Jamaica was right in the midst of its tourist business, too.

The prophets who predicted recurrence of earthquake violence after the California shaking have stepped to the head of the class.

Vice-president Fairbanks will get considerable advertising through the escapades of his son who married during an elopement and is now indicted for perjury in filling certificate. It is the kind that Fairbanks, senior, could get along without, however.

THE KINGSTON DISASTER.

The earthquake on the island of Jamaica, in which the city of Kingston was shaken, followed by the dreadful scourge of fire, is like in almost every respect to the San Francisco earthquake of eight months ago. But the property magnitude it will not reach the appalling proportions of the 'Frisco occurrence. In the first place, conditions were not so poor as in San Francisco; in respect to earthquakes. The buildings there were largely low and consequently not so likely to be shaken down as were the great brick and stone sky-scrapers of the California city. The quivering of the earth's surface easily piled the latter buildings in heaps, while the Kingston houses from the nature of their construction were more able to withstand the convulsions of nature. The material cost of the destroyed houses was therefore much smaller in contrast, albeit the loss to the Jamaicans must have fallen as severely as did the loss last spring upon the Californians. But in essential features the Kingston disaster of Monday is remarkably similar to the San Francisco calamity.

THE SALARY OF TEACHERS.

No one will doubt that the teaching profession is underpaid. His opinion in that direction will be made firmer by some comparisons which the Collier's Weekly for the last week makes. The article tells us that bricklayers in San Francisco get $8 per day, while "Harriet Jones teaches school in Luzerne county, Pennsylvania, for the same per week." Masons in Calgary, Canada, get $3.10 per day, while "Lawrence Amos teaches school in East Brandywine township, Pennsylvania, for $40 a month." For its purposes, Collier's has taken extreme cases in the case of the highest paid of the two and not the average. No bricklayer in Vermont, for instance gets $8 per day; and it is to be doubted if any bricklayer in New York city gets that amount. San Francisco's wages are high just at this time because of the very great demand for workmen to rebuild the burned district. Doubtless unusual conditions prevail also in Calgary, which should bring masons a salary equal to professional incomes in Vermont. On the other hand, Collier's has not hit the extremes in teachers' salaries. There are a great many teachers not alone in Luzerne county, Pennsylvania, and in East Brandywine, Pennsylvania, who are getting no more than $8 a week and $40 a month. If the figures were at hand they probably would show that the average wage for teachers in Maine

TALK OF THE TOWN.

Maskerade tonight.
 Neck and ear muffs for 19c and 25c at Vaughan's.

Railroad Commissioner S. H. Jackson went to Brattleboro yesterday to attend a meeting of the state commission which investigated a fatality on a railroad there.

We are not making overmuch noise about our special prices, but one point we want to make plain. We are cutting prices to induce our buyers to buy now whatever they will need during the month of January. Thos. Brady.

Manager Jules Murry owns half a score of excellent theatrical attractions, but for the portrayal of "The Mummy and the Humming Bird," the greatest success of last season, he assigns the organization specially formed and known as "Jules Murry's own company," as being particularly worthy to properly present this charming comedy. The comedy is headed by William A. Whitcar, and comprises a supporting cast, each of whom was selected from the large corps of actors in Mr. Murry's employ by reason of individual fitness for the role assigned. It is claimed, therefore, that the performance of "The Mummy and the Humming Bird," soon to be given here by this organization, will be one of the most enjoyable in every respect that can be expected during the dramatic season.

NEW GRANGE DEPUTIES.

Appointments Announced by State Master G. W. Pierce.

Brattleboro, Jan. 17.—George W.
 Pierce, master of the Vermont State Grange, has given out his list of appointments as deputies throughout the state. They are: C. S. Albee, of Bellows Falls; E. H. Hallett, of St. Johnsbury; H. M. Sanborn, of East Thetford; R. B. Galusha, of Royalton; W. L. Gibson, of Londonderry; M. B. Roberts, of Rupert; Cassius Peck, of Burlington; G. H. Terrell, of Morrisville; C. C. Flint, of Randolph; C. A. Bump, of West Saisbury; E. F. Whitcomb, of Chester; H. W. Sargent, of Brattleboro; L. A.
 Adams, of Wilmington; A. E. Whitcomb, of Washington; J. F. Conant, of Hardwick; Charles J. Bell, of Walden; Mrs. L. H. Morgan, of South Woodstock; B. H. Alden, of Quebec; Edgar Plimley, of Ludlow; L. M. Benedict, of Castleton; W. G. Fassett, of Enosburg; and D. G. Stafford, of Rutland. Mr. Ser-gent is general deputy of the State Grange. He will take up the work of organization in the southern part of the state.

Because He Needs Them.

Jack (in restaurant)—What are you going to order, Aggie?
 Aggie—Some calf brains, for one thing.

Jack—Still trotting in the cannibal class, I see.—Detroit Tribune.

Weddings in Italy.

In Italy, Sunday is usually selected for the marriage of those persons who have never been married before. Widows, however, in accordance with an old custom, usually choose Saturday.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

No Scare.
 Forbear, rash swain! You do not know How brave is woman's heart.
 What dangers fail to daunt her nerve When fate her lot would part!
 From what her spirit holds most dear—Remember and refrain From your attempts to fright the girl With the oyster's dread perfume.
 —Baltimore American.

In the Baryard.
 "Oh, please," the young ben pleaded nervously, "what's the proper way to sit on a nest?"
 "Hatch-way!" replied the old ben, with a silly cackle.—Catholic Standard and Times.

Chance For Chin.
 Mrs. Crimmonbank—Why do so many women take up violin playing, do you suppose?
 Mr. Crimmonbank—Why, it gives them a chance to use their chin.—Yonkers Statesman.

A Pet Name.
 A dentist whose surname was Moss fell in love with the charming Miss Ross.
 But he held in abhorrence Her Christian name, Florence, So he called her his Dental Moss.
 —Lippincott's Magazine.

The Main Thing.
 "There is Mrs. Jones with a new hat again. And she hasn't any money. I know it."
 "Well, I suppose her milliner doesn't."
 —Browning's Magazine.

Preserving His Taste.
 In his early boarding house days in Kansas City Eugene Field was invited to dine at a hospitable house where the best of everything was to be found. Some delicious strawberries were passed. Field gazed at them longingly, but shook his head.
 "Why, Field," said his host in surprise, "don't you like strawberries?"
 "I do not on them."
 "Then why don't you take some?"
 "I'm afraid," said the poet sadly, "that if I did they'd spoil my appetite for peaches."—Hidways.

A Conversational Demand.
 "Why don't you try to make yourself agreeable?" asked the reproving friend.

"My dear," answered Miss Cayenne,
 "the desire to be agreeable is what has spoiled my disposition. You can't make yourself agreeable to some people without saying things about others."—Washington Star.

Where Patience Ended.
 "Haw, haw, haw! Good joke! Why will New York's fifty story building be fifty-one when it falls down?"
 "I don't see."
 "If it falls, that would be another story, wouldn't it? Haw, haw!
 Ouch!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

He Knew.

Father—Now, Bobbie, Bobbie! If you gobble your food like that, people will think you are a little glutton. Do you know what a little glutton is?
 Bobbie—I s'pose it's the little boy of —of a b-b-b-glutton.—Father.

Natural.
 "She handed him a lemon."
 "What did he do?"
 "Drank it. It was mixed with sugar and water."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

WHAT IS WORN.

Betta Should Be Carefully Chosen.
 Many Styles in Furs.
 If a waist the color of the skirt is worn, there should be a fitted silk belt if the bodice is at all elaborate, but if on the skirt waist order the stitched narrow belt is the more appropriate.
 Wide belting the color of the skirt is becoming to a slight figure and has just recently come into decided favor.
 Needless to state, belting is only appropriate with the simplest style of skirt waist and skirt costume, but when becoming to the figure it is particularly trim and neat.
 Long boas, flat stoles and wide fur capes are all to be worn this year, but

PLATED GOWN—BITE.

the shape of the collar depends largely upon the kind of fur used.
 Bullroff skin hats are a fad of the moment. It may not sound so, but a little turban of bullroff skin in a greenish brown shade with upstanding loops of dark green velvet ribbon for its trimming makes a smart hat.

Very pretty are the evening hats of lace with a crown of fur. Quite as attractive is a large hat of white point d'esprit shirred all over the frame and trimmed with a long silver held in place with a single rose or a buckle.
 Little girls' dresses are charming this year made up in bright plaids.
 The dress pictured is carried out in a plaid in which there is a great deal of bright red trimmed with wide black velvet ribbon and narrow soutache braid. The chemise is of white broadcloth. JUDIC CHOLLET.

TOMORROW IS FISH DAY

An Incentive to Spindle.

A London coroner remarked the other day that on no account should a weapon with which a suicide had been committed be returned. "People," he said, "brood over such weapons, and the fascination drives them to imitate the suicide." Such, he said, had been the experience of other coroners.

The Sidesaddle.

A correspondent of the London Mail says that women always rode astride till Queen Elizabeth in order to show a magnificent dress upon a certain state occasion rode sideways and so set the fashion.

Silk Stockings.

In 1570 Queen Elizabeth was presented with a pair of silk stockings by her tire woman and afterward never wore any other kind.

WOMAN'S REALM.

The Cleveland section of the Council of Jewish Women, celebrated its twentieth anniversary recently and took the first steps toward forming a state federation.

The franchise, says London Madam, was not given to Australian women till they all wanted it, and if Englishwomen stood shoulder to shoulder and worked quietly, unobtrusively and in a dignified way woman's suffrage would soon be an accomplished fact.

In 1856 Miss Phelps, a philanthropic Englishwoman, introduced embroidery among the women of Madeira as an employment which does not conflict with domestic duties. Today about 50,000 women are regularly employed in this work. Their wages vary from 10 to 50 cents a day.
